Re:Docket #98N-1038

I would like to register a complaint about the proposed removal of prominent labeling of irradiated food. It should be my choice as to whether I want to purchase food that has been irradiated. I have two small children whose health is a great concern to me.

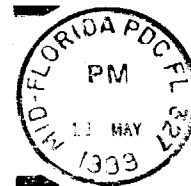

I also believe that a requirement for the prominent labeling of irradiated food should remain in effect as long as there is irradiated food so there will be no question as about the process a food has undergone.

Sincerely,

Paula Jobin
